Dear Secretary:

am concerned about proposals to add ⁽¹⁾ tens of thousands in additional monthly expense to many, if not all of our local stations, ⁽²⁾ result in dictating the content of what can be said on the air, ⁽³⁾ Force ~~all~~ some of our translator stations to leave the air.

Please stop the harassment before it starts on christian stations because we are promoting the gospel as it should be & do not wish to stop.

you could put a stop to the stations saying bad things on the air who don't care about our children or what they hear.

Please help, do not cause any problems

RE: In the Matter of Broadcast Localism (MB Docket No. 04-233)

Dear Chairman Martin:

I am writing to you today in response to the recent information that The Federal Communications Commission is considering a radical re-regulation of America's local broadcasters. I find this alarming and believe that additional mandates on local broadcasters are not only unnecessary, but would also be exceptionally burdensome potentially offering the opposite results of those intended. As President and Market Manager of Clear Channel Atlanta, I can assure you that our six stations – WBZY-FM, WGST-AM, WKLS-FM, WUBL-FM, WWLG-FM, and WWVA-FM - go above and beyond what is mandated to serve the local community.

For example, in 2007 Clear Channel Atlanta launched a second Spanish station, WBZY-FM (WWVA-FM being the first) to provide programming and entertainment specific to the growing Spanish speaking population in the metro region. Earlier this year, these two stations combined efforts to raise $809,465 in a two-day Radiothon for St. Jude Children's Hospital.

In 2007 alone, Clear Channel Atlanta also donated over 15,000 PSAs to local non-profit and community service organizations such as Atlanta Red Cross, Atlanta Community Food Bank and Georgia Council for the Blind with an airtime value of over $1,500,000. In addition, Clear Channel Atlanta stations have partnered with local charities and organizations such as Operation Home Front to help raise more than $250,000 for local families of our Military. WKLS-FM partnered with The Empty Stocking Fund in 2007 to replace stolen Christmas gifts waiting for holiday distribution valued at over $50,000. WKLS-FM hosted a 50-hour marathon that raised over $96,000 which more than replaced the value of the stolen gifts. Additionally, the station matched donations up to $25,000. These are just several of the ways in which Clear Channel Atlanta demonstrates our commitment to the local community and its charitable organizations.

Chairman Martin, I appreciate your taking our views into consideration during the ongoing proceeding and encourage you to take the time to speak with those of us who actually run local radio stations on a daily basis. Along with my fellow local broadcasters, I urge you not to impose the burdensome rules that could well hamper our ability to continue this kind of local community service.

Sincerely,

Chuck Deskins
President and Market Manager

Federal Communications Commission:

Regarding the recent Federal Communications Commission request to all radio stations, they want all stations to increase local programming. Some of these new rules may have negative impacts, especially on small stations. My Springfield Christian radio station would suffer, as would PD 8-4th Justice supporter stations across the United States. These two examples do not have the adequate income to afford compliance with these new demands.

My letter is to request that these demands be reconsidered, making these stations to remain on the air, appealing to spiritual and inner. As we need a "one-day-fits-all" approach across the "one-day-fits-all" scenario of these new regulations becoming mandatory is that many radio stations may have to go off the air. Please don't let this happen.
Thank you for taking action in this problem
as soon as possible.

One problem we have in education is a private radio station broadcasting at 99.9 fm. (Profanity, vulgar and with are deleted out in regular hours. Several times the station (located in a house) has moved, then affecting various parts of the city. Now most, left in an edge far west side, it will be present in our downtown area. Why don't the FCC do anything about this? Is getting stations off the air more important than getting illegal stations out down for good?

Sincerely,
Patricia A. Bulger

Attn: Chief Media Bureau,

I'm writing in regard to keeping Christian broadcasting on the air. Both radio & TV.
I believe it in regard to Docket 04-233.

Please allow the broadcasting as it is a safe place, for Christians, &
also for children, & the whole family.

Thank you so much.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Doris Schaefer

Comments in Response to Localism Notice of Proposed Rulemaking MB Docket No. 04-233

I submit the following comments in response to the Localism Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (the "NPRM"), released Jan. 24, 2008, in MB Docket No. 04-233.

Any new FCC rules, policies or procedures must not violate First Amendment rights. A number of proposals discussed in the NPRM, if enacted, would do so – and must not be adopted.

(1) The FCC must not force radio stations, especially religious broadcasters, to take advice from people who do not share their values. The NPRM's proposed advisory board proposals would impose such unconstitutional mandates. Religious broadcasters who resist advice from those who don't share their values could face increased harassment, complaints and even loss of license for choosing to follow their own consciences, rather than allowing incompatible viewpoints to shape their programming. The First Amendment prohibits government, including the FCC, from dictating what viewpoints a broadcaster, particularly a religious broadcaster, must present.

(2) The FCC must not turn every radio station into a public forum where anyone and everyone has rights to air time. Proposed public access requirements would do so – even if a religious broadcaster conscientiously objects to the message. The First Amendment forbids imposition of message delivery mandates on any religion.

(3) The FCC must not force revelation of specific editorial decision-making information. The choice of programming, especially religious programming, is not properly dictated by any government agency – and proposals to force reporting on such things as who produced what programs would intrude on constitutionally-protected editorial choices.

(4) The FCC must not establish a two-tiered renewal system in which certain licensees would be automatically barred from routine renewal application processing. The proposed mandatory special renewal review of certain classes of applicants by the Commissioners themselves would amount to coercion of religious broadcasters. Those who stay true to their consciences and present only the messages they correspond to their beliefs could face long, expensive and potentially ruinous renewal proceedings.

(5) Many Christian broadcasters operate on tight budgets, as do many smaller market secular stations. Keeping the electricity flowing is often a challenge. Yet, the Commission proposes to further squeeze niche and smaller market broadcasters, by substantially raising costs in two ways: (a) by requiring staff presence whenever a station is on the air and, (b) by further restricting main studio location choices. Raising costs with these proposals would force service cutbacks – and curtailed service is contrary to the public interest.

We urge the FCC not to adopt rules, procedures or policies discussed above.
